Please see Index map of Tungabhadra project accompanying G.O.No.1429-I. dated 6-7-34. It shows the Sandur State and the proposed dam as also the Tungabhadra main canal. The proposed F.R.L. is + 1630 and bed level of canal at its head is +1585. Sandur State is hilly and country levels range in the neighbourhood of + 1850. The proposed scheme cannot therefore serve any part of the Sandur State. I am not therefore giving any details of the scheme.

Sir,

Tungabhadra Project – Participation by the Sandur Darbar

In reply to your letter no P-3-1185/37 dy 10.5.37 I am directed to say that the Tungabhadra Project as last modified in Oct 1933 consists in the formation of a reservoir on the Tungabhadra river by the construction of a dam 8,095 ft long at Makapuram a village three miles distant from Hospet in the Bellary Dt of this Presidency, and a system of canals from the reservoir for the irrigation of 10,72,500 acres in parts of Bellary, Anantapur and Kurnool districts. The propos reservoir is to have a total

Capacity
the full reservoir level of + 1630.00, and an effective capacity of 102,229 mcft above the sill of the head sluice at + 1585.00. The main canal from the reservoir is to be about 245 miles long. The scheme is a joint one for the benefit of the Madras & Hyderabad Govts and the cost of the reservoir & the headworks is to be borne equally by the two Govts., the cost of the canal system for the irrigation of lands within the territory of each Govt being borne by the respective Govts.
The estimated cost of the Madras share of the scheme is Rs 10 to 11 crores for both headworks & canal systems. The proposed reservoir & the system of canals are shown in the accompanying map

I am to add that the scheme can not serve any portion of the Sandur State as the country is hilly & the levels

Ravelle in the neighbourhood of +1850 while the proposed full reservoir level is +1630 and the bed level of the canal at its head is +1585.

The map sent herewith may kindly be returned as soon as done with.

The under map in the flap attached to the back. It seems a costly one & its return may be asked for.

Yours sincerely
